

Sinclair Broadcasting is clearly making a political decision that sets a dangerous precedent of large media groups controlling the information airway and trying to sway public opinion to make it suit their agenda.

The FCC should block their attempt to air this free political add for the Bush candidacy.